REPORT OF HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

To the Superintendent, School Committee, and Citizens of Winterport:

The following report of the newly organized six year high school for the year 1930-1931 is respectfully submitted.

School opened on September 8, 1930, with a registration considerable larger than ever before in the history of the town. This was due to the new arrangement which provided for the combination of junior and senior high organizations into the form of a six year high school.

During the year there have been 113 students registered, of which 104 are at present in regular attendance. The enrollment by classes is as follows:

	Boys	Girls	Total
12th year .....	12	6	18
11th year .....	5	9	14
10th year .....	6	13	19
9th year .....	8	8	16
8th year .....	13	10	23
7th year .....	13	9	22
Total.....	58	55	113

In addition to the change from a four to a six year high school, a new course of study has been offered by the newly organized Commercial Department. Classes in typewriting, bookkeeping, shorthand and commercial arithmetic have been open to students in the two upper classes and a comparatively large number have taken advantage of the new department. From the senior class 8 students and from the junior class 11 students have been taking at least two of the subjects given under this new department. This new course has become very popular and will naturally have to be enlarged as advanced classes are added to the schedule this coming year.

The two session plan has been tried this year and has proved most successful. This arrangement has made it possible for students to put much more time on their work before leaving the building in the afternoon, and has helped to bring about a very industrious attitude on the part of a majority of the students enrolled.

Instruction has been provided this year without increasing the number of instructors but it will be extremely difficult to offer a classical course, a general course and a commercial course in the senior high division after this year with only three teachers. The only possible way to do it necessitates the alternating of more courses and that will mean much larger recitation groups than the present building can accomodate.

I believe most citizens of the town are aware of the conditions under which both teachers and students are now working. The main room has been made more attractive, more comfortable and more useful by the addition of nearly one hundred movable seats. New shelves have been built in the science laboratory to provide more room as it has been necessary to share this room with the typewriting classes.

The outstanding needs at the present time are two more recitation rooms equipped with new desks, modern toilet facilities which will necessarily involve a change in the heating system, and new seats in at least two of the three recitation rooms which are now being used. School authorities, I believe, are doing all they possibly can to make the necessary changes. As the building is of the older type the question of the expediency of making extensive changes and additions, as would be necessary to supply all deficiencies, is a grave one. However, if the junior-senior high arrangement which has been instituted this year, and which I feel has justified itself, is to be carried on effectively, some provision must be made to relieve the present congested condition. The crowded condition has made it impossible for teachers to do their best work or for students to get the best results from their study. If the school is to progress it is imperative that a new building be constructed or that extensive additions be made to the present building at once.

Considerable has been accomplished during the year in the extra-curricular program in which practically every one in school is interested and takes part. The regular assembly programs provided each week by the students have brought to light new talent from week to week. Public speaking is being encouraged particularly through our English department and incidentally by other methods and from the leaders in our final contests representatives will be sent to compete with those from other schools in the county. An attempt has been made to increase the social life and training of our student group and not only have the students responded with enthusiasm, but many parents have signified in various ways their approval of our school socials.

A physical education program is being carried out this year in which practically every one will take part. In our athletic competition our teams have been successful. The cross country team after having won consistently from schools in this section, made a fine record in the interscholastic meet last fall at Orono. At the present time our girls' basketball team is tied with the team representing Searsport High School, each having lost but one league game. The spirit of good fellowship which has been conspicuous during the periods of athletic competition has been very pleasing to those who have had any contact with the students as they participated.

Our per cent of attendance has been good as a whole. But there is one phase of absence to which I would like to call the attention of parents. There is a tendency on the part of a few parents to allow their children to stay out of school for a day or an afternoon, for reasons which might be avoided. One day absences, repeated frequently, are most disastrous to a pupil's progress in school. He not only loses the class instruction when he is out but often comes back totally unprepared for the next day's work. Consequently, repeated absences break the thread of the pupil's work, and since our school program is planned to progress continuously from day to day, his whole course is full of weak places. Let us then remember that a week of continuous absence is far less serious for the pupil than five days of absence at intervals.

In closing I wish to commend most highly my three assistants, Miss Stairs of the English Department, Miss Nickerson of the Junior High Division, and Mr. Livingston, of the Commercial Department, who have made possible by their labors and co-operation whatever has been accomplished. It would be hard to find a more competent or loyal group. I wish also to thank the Superintendent of Schools, the School Committee and all others who have contributed to the success of the school.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN W. ABBOTT,

Feb. 19, 1931.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS
To the Superintending School Committee and Citizens of Winterport:

In accordance with Chapter 16 of the Laws of Maine relating to public schools, I have the honor to submit the following report of the condition and progress of the schools in Winterport for the year ending Feb. 2, 1931.

This report includes a detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures in the several accounts, the condition of school buildings, the degree of efficiency attained, and the budget estimate for the ensuing fiscal year.

During the past year the school system of the town has been reorganized, and several important changes made in the interests of efficiency and economy. The most important of these changes were the establishment of a six year Junior-Senior High School, the introduction of a Commercial Course in the high school, and the consolidation of the Whittier and Lower Primary schools with the Upper Village schools.

The six year high school is very economical and the ideal plan for towns of this size, as is shown by the annually increasing number within the State. Some of the greatest advantages as seen in our schools this year are as follows:

1. It has a tendency to bridge the gap between the elementary school graduation and high school, and thus keep pupils in school who have a tendency to drop out. This is shown by the fact that nearly all of those eligible to enter high school are regularly enrolled.

2. The pupils come in contact with more than one teacher and usually have the influence of both men and women teachers.

3. Promotion is by subject which allows pupils to progress as fast as they are capable, and a year's work in a subject need not be repeated because of failure in other subjects.

4. It provides departmental teaching, which allows teachers to teach those subjects in which they are interested and best trained.

5. It offers more courses and better equipment for these courses than is possible in an elementary school.

6. More time is available for junior high pupils than is possible in an elementary school.

7. Disciplinary cases are fewer and more easily handled.

8. It is very economical as three teachers are doing the work formerly done by four.

The consolidation of the Whittier and Lower Primary schools with the village elementary schools has been a decided advantage for this has brought about better grading of these schools with two grades per teacher rather than from three to eight as formerly. A comparison of actual teachers programs of classes in an eight grade school and a two grade school shows that the consolidated school child gets more attention in six years than the rural child in eight years. This consolidation has been an important step in trying to give equal educational opportunities to all. The transportation has been of the best, noon lunches have been provided, and all possible has been done to make conditions pleasant and satisfactory.

The Commercial course has proved to be a decided benefit and incentive to the high school pupils. It offers a practical subject for those who do not expect to enter college. This course has a goodly number enrolled who are working conscientiously and with an enthusiasm hitherto lacking.

From the educational standpoint the year has been a successful one. Our teachers are well trained. They have demonstrated their ability in the conduct of the schools, won the respect of the pupils and aroused in them greater enthusiasm for their work. Although the new plan has been in operation for a relatively short time, it has thus far been very successful and seems to be a decided improvement from both the financial and educational standpoints. It is the hope of your Committee that the present organization may be continued.

Two years ago I called attention to the fact that a course in Agriculture would probably be beneficial to our high school students. These courses are becoming very popular over the State. Such a course would be of small expense as the State pays two-thirds the cost of instruction within certain limits. If the demand for such a course were great enough it could be easily arranged. This is a matter which should be given some thought and consideration.

For the past thirty-five years superintendents of schools, in their annual reports have been calling attention to the fact that one school building centrally located would be much more economical and convenient than the two in use at present. During this period nothing has been accomplished but the time is coming when some policy should be determined upon. The present heating and toilet conveniences in both buildings are very unsatisfactory. The expense for installing sanitary toilets and adequate heating systems for both would be high compared with the expense for one central building.

The repair program has been continued with the painting of the interior of the Ellingwood's Corner schoolhouse, the exterior of the Martin schoolhouse, the interior of the high school, and the purchase of 90 chair desks for the high school assembly room. This program should be continued next year by painting the Lowell and Fisher school houses and the purchase of chairs for some of the high school class rooms.

Your School Committee has made a careful study of finances needed for next year and recommend an increase of $250.00 each in the Common School, High School, Textbook, and Supplies Account. This increase is necessary because of an increase in school enrollment, a reduction in state funds, the additional expense for the commercial course, and the gradually decreasing balance in school accounts.

The enrollment for the fall term of 299 was 17 greater than one year ago. This of course has meant an added expense for books and supplies.

I am advised by the State Commissioner of Education that there will probably be a reduction of about 6% in the state school fund of 1931 as compared with 1930. This will mean a loss of approximately $185.00 to Winterport and must be offset by an increased appropriation if as good a financial situation is to be maintained.

It is usually the custom for towns to make an additional appropriation whenever a new course is introduced in a high school. However, custom was not followed in this case as no appropriation was made for the commercial course. The School Committee decided that the demand was great enough, the benefits worth while, and the funds sufficient to warrant the introduction of such a course for one year. The course has been on trial this year, you have had an opportunity to judge its merits, and now it is up to the voters of the town to decide whether it shall continue.

A comparison of appropriations for the past five years shows that school appropriations have decreased about 10%. The increase asked for this year would make the appropriation approximately the same as was made five years ago. School costs have been on the increase during this period and the balance in the combined accounts has been growing smaller until the time has arrived when an increase in appropriations must be made if the efficiency of our school system is to be maintained.

Trusting that the next year will be prosperous and successful and assuring you of my desire to co-operate with you in all ways, I am,

Respectfully yours,

KERMIT S. NICKERSON,

Superintendent of Schools.
